Information

With advancements in outboard and electrical technology, more and more of us are pushing to discover the limitations of small vessel boating. When you start exploring a little further off the coast and you need a hull that will perform above its weight class, look no further than the Kingfisher 450 Minicat. Whether its shallow water casting, or blue water deep dropping, the 450 doesnt leave much to chance. Featuring twin bilge pumps, sealed dual flotation chambers and dry battery storage the 450 is the one size fits all trailer cat.
